

The love definition

Love is patient,

even though we can be complacent.

Love never fails, nor does it fades,

it is always there, even when you're afraid.

Love endures all things without weakening,

even when we could be very self-seeking.

Love is nether jealous nor rude full,

Instead, it is kind and thoughtful.

So if you are ever in a bind,

God's warm love is what you will always find.
